20th International Conference on Waste Recycling

WASTE RECYCLING XX

December 7, 2017

Institute of Geotechnics SAS Košice, Slovakia
Lecture Hall of PROMATECH Research Centre

General information

20th International Scientific Conference on Waste Recycling (WR20) aims to stimulate intersectoral collaboration by gathering specialists identifying the problems related to industrial pollution, and indicate the right direction to find the solution to improve the quality of environment and life in V4 region and European area. This conference will strengthen the partnerships in environmental research and waste recycling, delivering knowledge transfer in science and technology.

WR20 Conference shall follow the successful series of conferences focused on waste recycling (Waste Recycling I-XIX). All countries of Visegrad-Four Group are involved with academic and industrial partners from whole V4 region will actively participate at the conference.
